We've Only Just Begun To Live, White

Lace And Promises

From the moment a student steps onto a university campus, he's in another world.

A university offers its students a variety of experiences
from which to choose. . .
music, drama, publications, athletics, art, fraternities, dorm life. . .and maybe even a little studying.
University life is the beginning for the student.

It's part of a learning process of responsibility, knowledge, experience and involvement in preparation for the world that lies beyond the campus.

... A Kiss For Luck And We're On Our Way

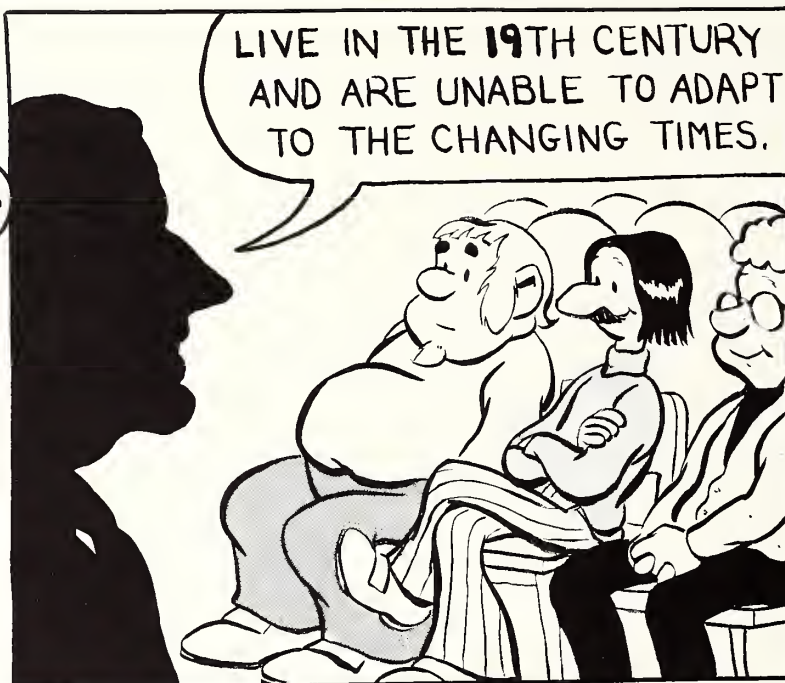

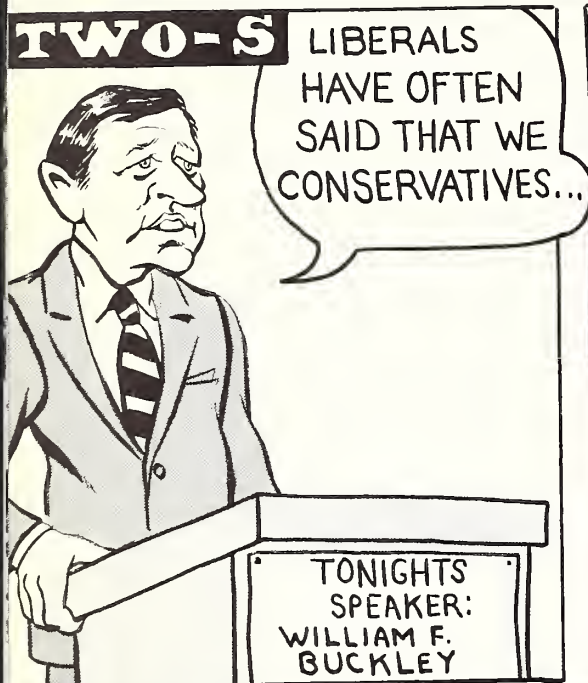

The space program
made a return visit
to the moon.
Billions of dollars gone. . .
But, just think
of the glory,
honor,
and prestige
that belongs to America for spending twice the amount on a return mission.
All this is ours. . .
not to mention the moon rocks.

We begin to live,
 and to enjoy.
 Proud, we face tomorrow.
 Idealists?
 No, we know.
 So, here we stand unsure but confident enough to try.
 As granted worldsavers
 and do-goods
 we look to tomorrow.
 We know what tomorrow brings by looking at what today has left.
 Tomorrow is here.
 Ready or not,
 We've only just begun.

We fought for enrollment,
a cluster college,
foreign campus,
even the advertising in Time.
What every big,
little school
should have.
We wanted new images,
new faces,
new ideas.
We lost progressive professors to administration's
old-school ways.
There was little room
for different pegs
in this square hole.

ARMSTRONG

What are the values the citizen of the 21st century will treasure? Certainly his society will be, even more than the present one, a value-oriented society. Listen attentively and you can hear this in the murmurings against more professionalism and dehumanized scientism voiced by some sensitive students. They want to raise the question "what ought to be" in halls too long devoted only to "what is" or "how to." The University of Evansville welcomes all searching questions of purpose. It views every aspect of university life as offering a forum for the examination of values. It stimulates in the classroom, on the campus, and in the common life of students and faculty efforts to improve the quality of man's life. It sees in its Judeo-Christian and humanistic origins a rich soil for the cultivation of creative encounter and fruitful interaction with all faiths and philosophies. It exists in the quest to discover and embrace a currently meaningful and practically useful value system.

Because today's student will live in the 21st century it is the stimulating business of the University to look forward to that world and prepare him for it.

School Begins . . .

With Moving In

Some 2,000 students
returned to Evansville this fall.

They flew,
drove
and hitchhiked
from locales ranging from the hamlet of Palmyra to the exotic city of Bangkok.
They toted water beds,
smuggled lids of grass,
and all paraphernalia
that would make their dorm rooms or apartments
seem a little more like home, their kind of home.

Housemothers took the place of nagging mothers and fathers while roommates took roles of mischievous brothers and sisters.

Although the facilities are not quite the same as home, frosh soon got used to communal baths
and unexpected fire drills.

Oh well,
life is a challenge
so the good books say
and so . . .
we've just begun.

This fall,
the freshman class
was crowded
into the PE building for one of the many official welcomes
to the U of E.
On hand
for this occasion
were
major campus leaders, who canvassed
the class
for support and interest in their respective organizations.
After yet another
welcome
the freshmen were told to begin developing a class officer slate
and
to nominate candidates for the queen
of the Icebreaker Dance.
At the dance
the votes
were cast
and the result . . .

Yes, We've Only Just Begun

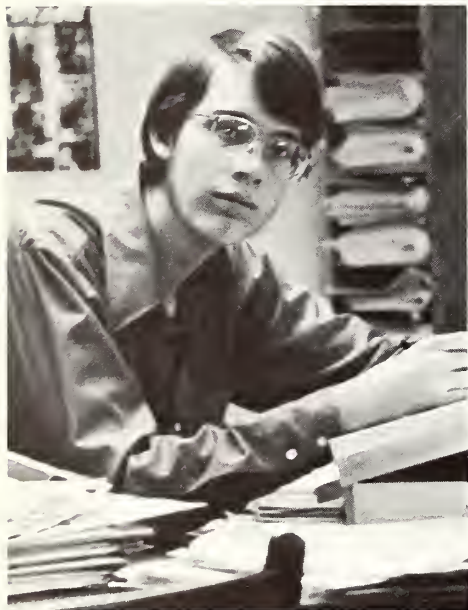

We've only just begun to live,
White lace and promises,
A kiss for luck and we're on our way.

Before the rising sun, we fly,
So many roads to choose,
We start out walking and learn to run.
And, yes, we've just begun.

Sharing horizons that are new to us,
Watching the signs along the way,
Talking it over just the two of us,
Working together day to day, together.

And when the evening comes we smile,
So much of life ahead,
We'll find a place where there's room to grow
And, yes, we've just begun.

Armstrong At His Best

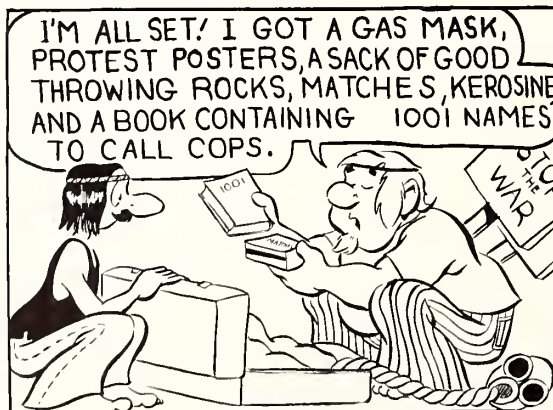

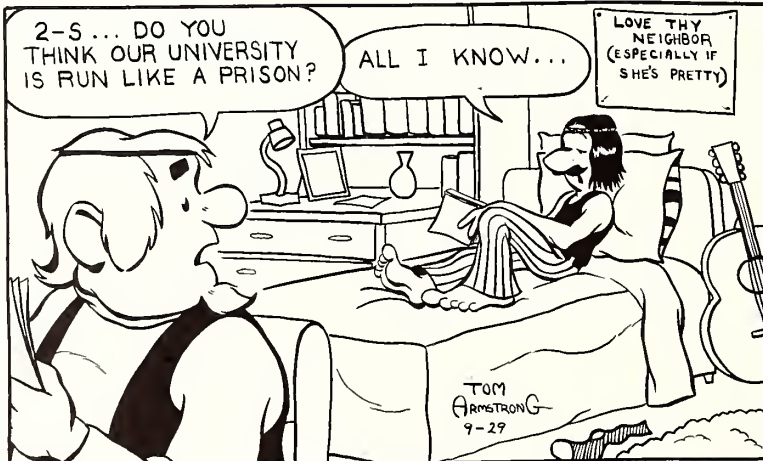

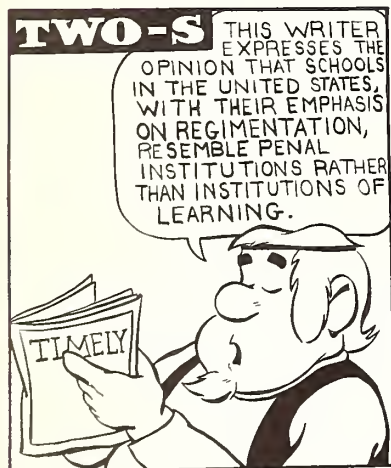

Tom Armstrong

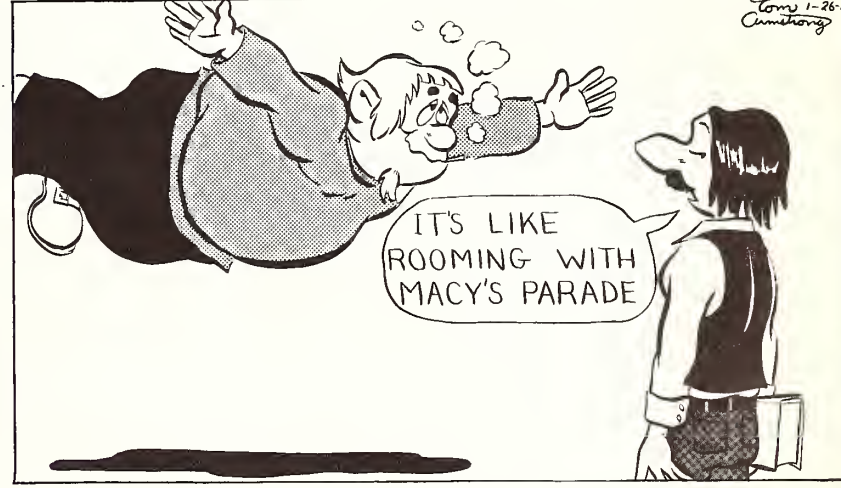

Charles Schulz has "Peanuts" . . . Walt Kelly has "Pogo" . . . and Tom Armstrong has "2-S".

The art major from Evansville is the creator of a weekly comic strip that appears in the campus newspaper, "The Crescent." "2-S" is both the name of the cartoon and its main character—a mop-haired, moustached student with a huge nose. Armstrong combines cartooning ability with original humor to produce a strip that often touches on various areas on campus: the University's new campus in England, final exams, the grading system. Armstrong has also provided editorial cartoons for "The Crescent," portraits for the "LinC" and the new campus magazine, "The Catalyst," and art work for advertising in both "Crescent" and "Catalyst." "2-S" is not Armstrong's first step into the art world; his high school newspaper and yearbook also contain some of his art work. For almost two years he did portraits for customers at a coffee house.

Homecoming Highlights

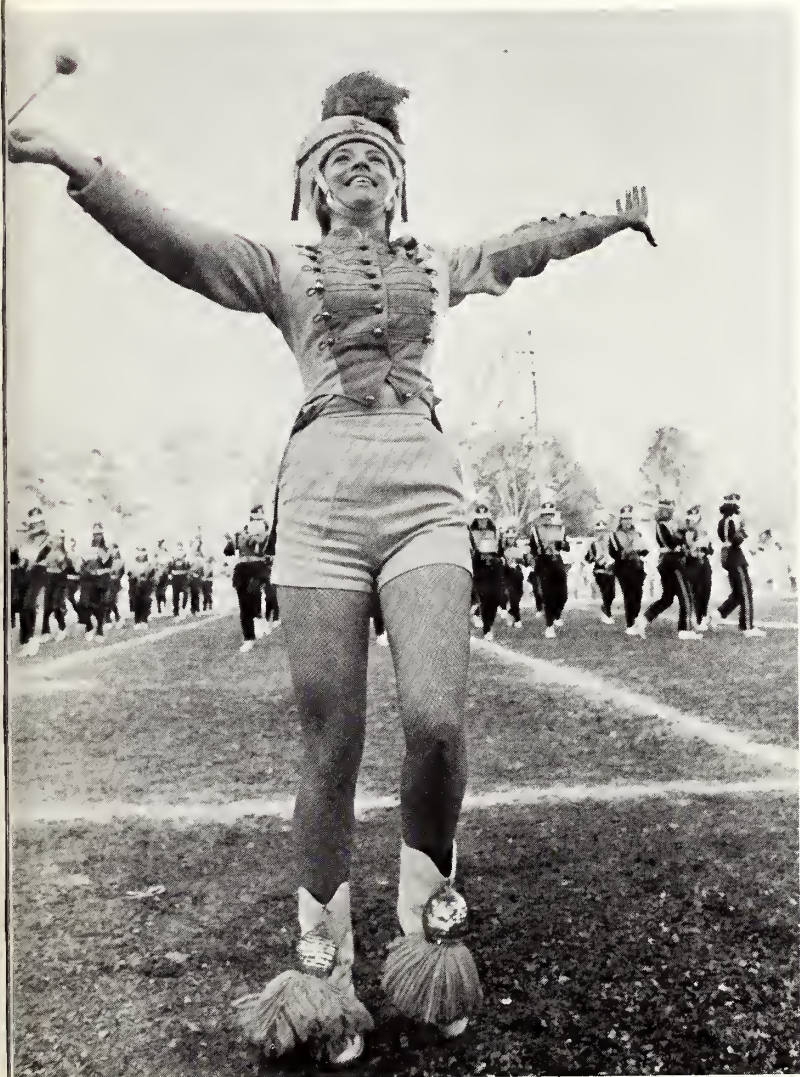

Spirit Surmounts Rain

Saturday,
Homecoming 1971...
Rain, as usual
but not enough
to dampen the festivities.
Highlights included
display victories
by the Teke's and the ChiO's, a football kicking contest,
and entertainment by the band.
Thursday night
junior Betty Martin was crowned Homecoming Queen followed by first runner-up Marsha Perigo.
Homecoming ended
on a perfect note;
we won our game.

Imaginary Invalid Crew Wins Competition

When the cast of the "Imaginary Invalid" first set November 27 as its opening performance date, they probably couldn't foresee that the entire crew would trek to Ford's Theatre in Washington, D.C., for two performances in April. The cast was among 22 other schools in its region vying in the American College and University Drama Festival.

Regional entrants were from a region that spanned Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and western Pennsylvania. The 22 were narrowed down to six; the "Invalid" cast was among those selected.

The cast then moved on to regional competition in Athens, Ohio where it was one of two chosen to perform at Ford's.

songs of today.

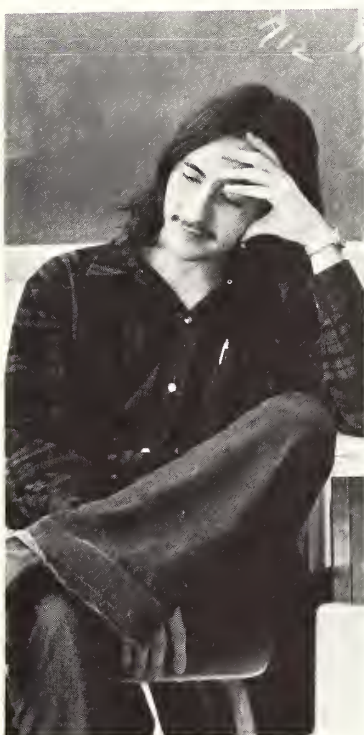

Rhodes' Firing . . .

"I'm different, I come on strong," admits Sheila Rhodes, assistant professor of philosophy at the university since 1969. In the short time she was here, the dark-haired teacher gained scores of disciples. Over 250 of them squeezed into the basement of Hughes Hall to hear Mrs. Rhodes say her teaching contract would not be renewed. The announcement hit the students in different ways; surprise, anger, disgust and mainly confusion. Mrs. Rhodes said she had not been given a reason for her dismissal although Dr. Perkins, head of the Philosophy Dept. said later that she was aware of them. Rumors giving reasons such as "profanity in the classrooms", "irreverence", "massive cultural conflict" and "alienation of students" helped cloud the issue. Mrs. Rhodes left a distinct impression on those who knew her well.

She possessed a magnetism that often caused her classes to fill to capacity on the first day of registration for new classes.

Warwick Wins Hearts . . .

In the midst of snow and ice came a warm spot. A little bronze bombshell sang her way from "San Jose" to Evansville and in the process, right into our hearts—most of which were bursting already from a generous portion of Valentine love which we had celebrated all day. From the moment she walked on stage and shot a bird to all who had "never heard of Dionne Warwick and her music," until the moment she walked off leaving 6,000 screaming admirers, it was all hers. She quizzed us musically in the popular "What Do You Get When You Fall in Love," and then softly told us to "Make It Easy on Yourself." "Close to You" was another easygoing tune which Dionne recorded long before the Carpenters. Sharing the spotlight earlier, the New Seekers had crooned "What Have They Done To My Song." Now Winter Weekend is a warm memory.

Lambda

The "Big 39" bike race became Lambda Chi Alpha's for the seventh time in the eight years the race has been held.

The fraternity turned in a time of two hours, two minutes and two seconds, setting a new record for the function, which is held annually during Spring Week. Almost five laps behind was Hughes Hall, which placed second. Sigma Phi Epsilon, the only other organization to ever win the race, finished third.

Lambda Chi Alpha was also the first group to ever sponsor two teams in the race; team No. 2 placed fifth.

Vicky Cook Chosen Fourth Miss U Of E

Vicki Cook, a sophomore from South Bend was chosen as the fourth Miss University of Evansville, Tuesday, May 18.

Vicki was chosen from a field of fourteen contestants.
She represented the University of Evansville at the Miss Indiana Pageant in July.

This was the second time that Vicki strolled the stage at Michigan City.

She was Miss Plymouth last year competing against her predecessor from the University of Evansville, Miss Yvonne Short.

Chosen as runners-up to Miss Cook, were Lois Meckel, first runner-up, and Paula Gillett, second runner-up.

SGA Spring Weekend

Offered Picnic, Concert

This years SGA-sponsored Spring Week was held from May 17-22, and for the first time, offered a whole week of activities to fulfill its title.

Starting the week of events was "The Beatles: Away With Words", a light show which was held at the Civic Center in downtown Evansville.

Tuesday we crowned our new Miss U of E. Vicki Cook was the fourth girl to win the coveted title.

Wednesday was set aside to honor those students who have contributed to the university through various academic and extracurricular activities.

Thursday the University welcomed Johnny Winter, in concert at the Coliseum.

Johnny appeared with friends, "Mott the Hoople", and "B. F. Trike", a local rock band.

Friday, we played in the sun at Audubon Park in Henderson, Kentucky.

This was enjoyed by Greeks, freaks and even those who didn't participate in the games.

Saturday we sat behind Carson Center to see Lambda Chi Alpha capture a seventh bike race victory. And culminating the weekend was a dance that evening in Carson Center, featuring "B. F. Trike" and "The Sausage Mills Blues Band".

UE Military Mix It Up At USO Show

Despite current disillusionment with the military, the Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight USO Show played to a full audience. Arnolds and angels performed skits, songs and one-liners, poking fun at military and campus situations.

Music Sets Mood For "Wings of Peace"

"Wings of Peace" was the theme of the 1971 Military Ball; an annual affair attended by both military and civilian couples. Highlighting this year's ball was the crowning of the 1971 queen. Senior Pam Gardner, last year's queen, presented the tiara to Betty Martin. Present was the charm and enchantment that a formal ball can offer. Low lights and music set the atmosphere for part of the illusion of "Wings of Peace."

Greeks Spend Day At Audubon Park

As the year sped to an end, the Greeks found more ways to keep up the spring fever.

This year's annual Greek Weekend was held at Audubon Park in Henderson, Kentucky.

The brothers and sisters made their way to a day to release their energies on rival chapters.

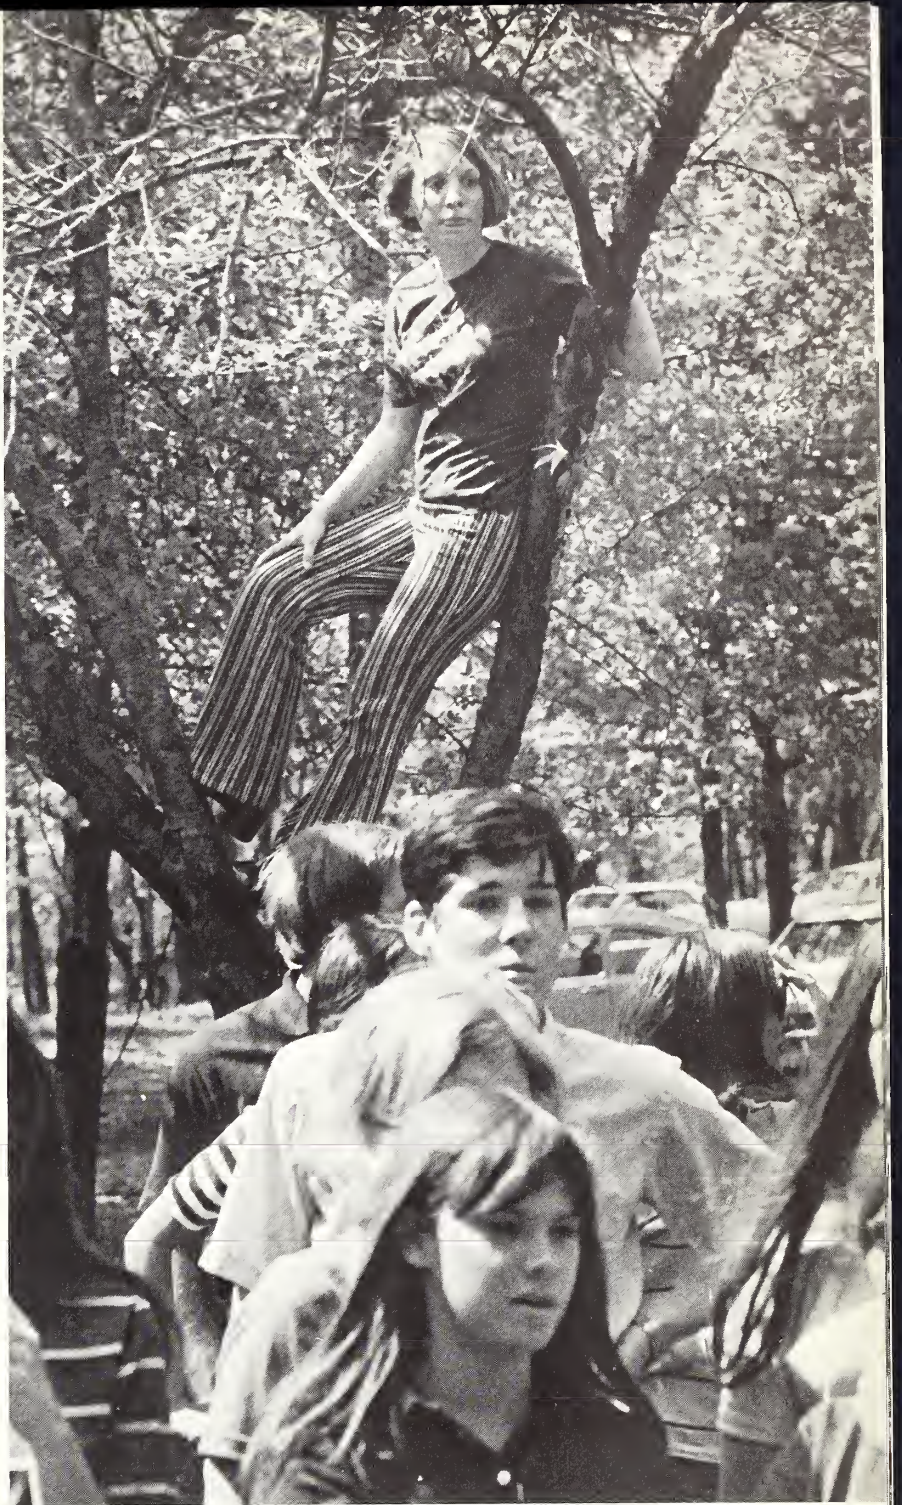

Sporting their Greek-lettered "T" shirts, the groups managed to tell each other apart, at least until after the competition in games was over.

Rooting and screaming of frat brothers and sorority sisters kept competition in the tug-of-war and the dizzy stick race in a tension that only Greek men and women can experience.

Not Another Registration!

Department

The last play of the school year with John David Lutz as director was the musical,
"Threepenny Opera."

This was the first attempt by the department
at a musical production and the cast performed with an air of experience

The musical,
is based on the story of Macheath a swindler and robber,
who gets caught at his games of crime.

Playing the lead role
was Keith Langsdale,
giving a fine performance,
acting as well as singing.

Other leads in the musical were Jan Yeiser, Liz Wagner, Dave Emge, Darla Himmelheber, Tom Shinnaman, Peggy Overman and Jeannie Smith.

Giving the narration of the play was Dave Westfall, who also sang the famous, "Mack the Knife".

Anti-War Rally Sparks Arrest Of Two

What happened to the campuses this year?

Why no mass riots and killings like those of last year?

On the average
there were decidedly fewer incidents uprooting college campuses in the 1970-71
school year.

However, those which Evansville did have turned out to be enough for a big, little school.

Wednesday, May 5, an anti-war rally was held on the front lawn
of the University.

The crowd was made up of campus "freaks" faculty, and those who wished to pay tribute to the four students who were killed at Kent State last spring.

With speeches beginning at 9:30 a.m. the crowd had already been infiltrated by many local high school students who felt the cause
was just as important to them.

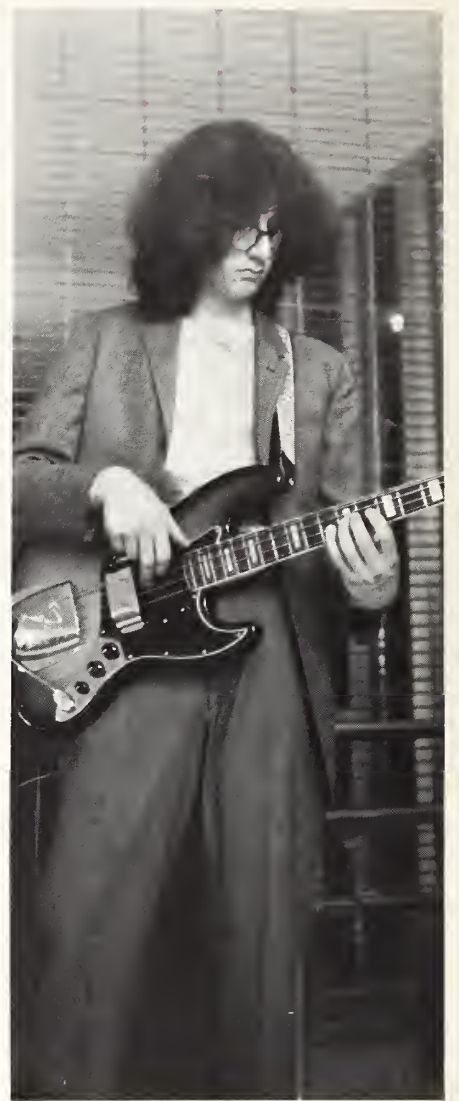

By early afternoon
the crowd dispersed on a walk to the Civic Center complex in downtown Evansville, where two high school students were arrested.

The two were abusing the $12,000 fiberglass fountain.

Students Hear Soul Jazz

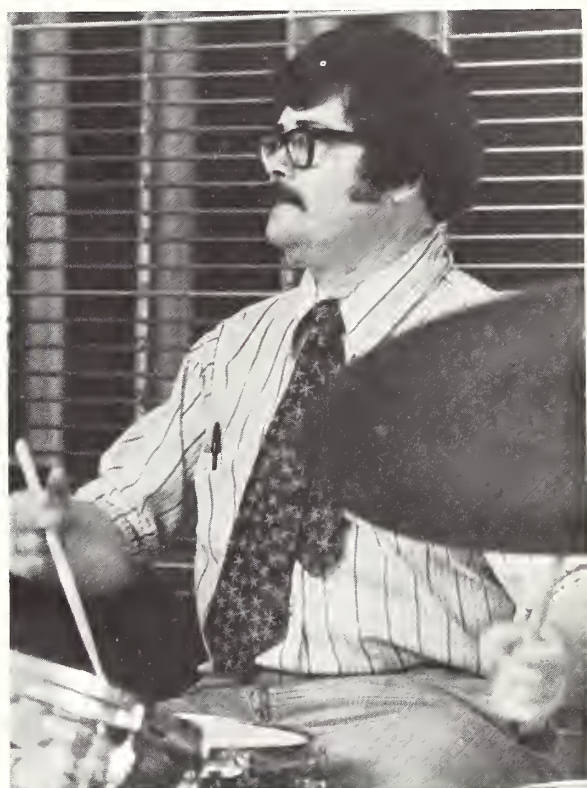

As part of the city-wide
"Black Culture Week",
we took time out from studies to listen to the Dave Baker Jazz Ensemble.

The event was held in Harper's Dining Center,
in May.

The music poured from Baker's trombone and the students were under the spell of the jazzman's beat.

Baker and his five other jazz partners have done numerous concerts in and around the Evansville area.

When the event was over, we went back to our dorm rooms, apartments,
and living rooms,
only to find that we were still haunted by the soul-swinging
jazz beat.

A Year Of

What can you say about a year at the U of E, that hasn't already been said last year, and the year before that?

We came through with tradition again, and brought the students some of the same activities, no matter how dull or boring they might have become by now. We crowned three campus beauties, Betty Martin, Lonna Davis, and Vicki Cook.

We had another Spring Weekend and still couldn't get enthused. We heard Johnny Winter in concert and many asked, "who"?

What makes this year any better? We elected our first "hippie" SGA president, in a close election. Joe White became our leader with hopes that U of E could be bettered by a "long hair".

We brought back a revised Musical Madness, and watched as Moore Hall won the competition, even though skits could be the work and excellence of two groups. The drama department came through with a prizewinning performance.

National Fame

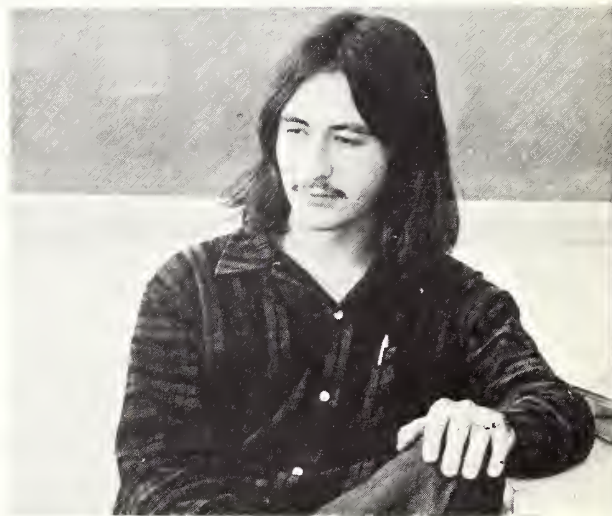

"Imaginary Invalid's" cast and crew brought the campus nation-wide fame when they won the regionals in the American College Theatre Festival, and the right to perform in Ford's Theatre, in Washington, D.C.

National fame also came when the Aces won their fifth national collegiate basketball championship.

When opening season started as "another year for the Aces", the team fought for the chance to get into the national finals.

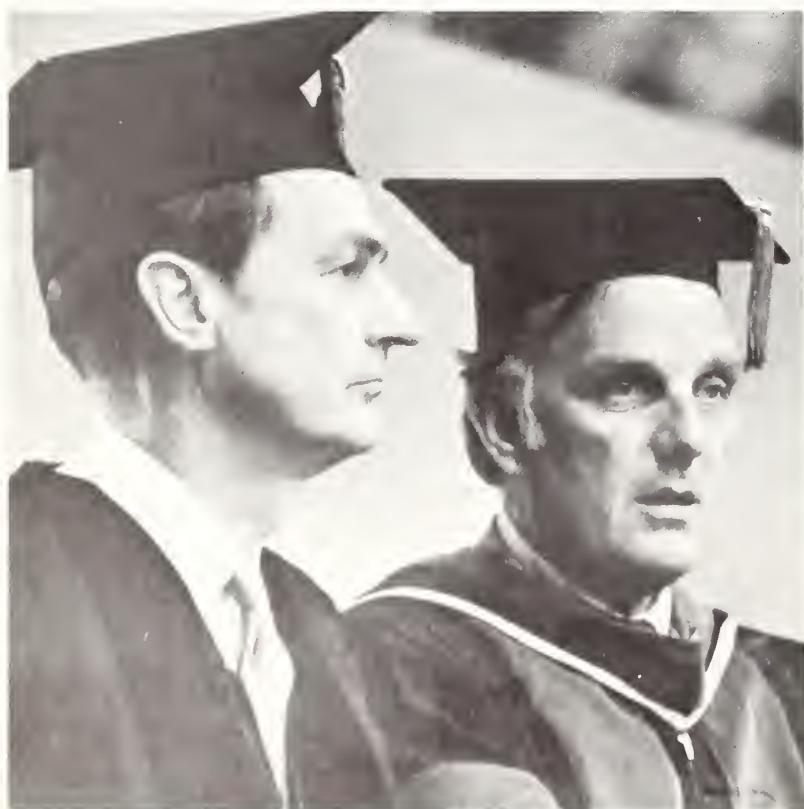

When they did, we didn't stop our fast paced playing. And still again we won national recognition, when the media heard of our England campus. Beginning in the fall of 1971, the University will hold classes in Harlaxton Manor in Grantham, England.

Dionne Warwick highlighted the year when she sang a Valentine's Day concert. These events made 1971 at least a little different from, 1970, 1969, 1968, etc.

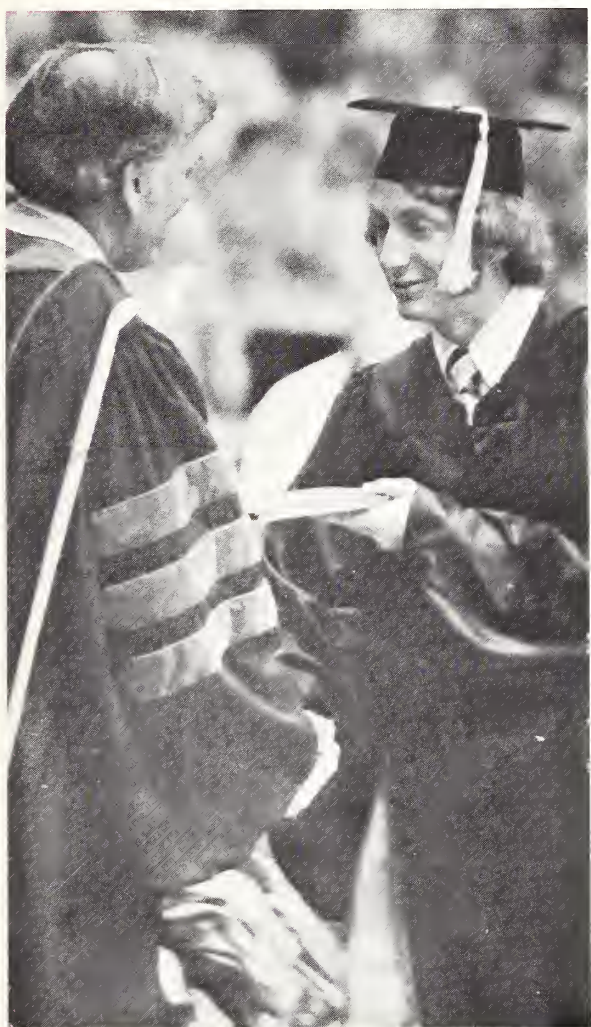

Louis T. Benezet Addresses Graduates

On June 13,
the University
held its 113th annual commencement.
Roberts Municipal Stadium was the setting for the graduation of 708 students.
Before the presentation of diplomas,
Dr. Louis T. Benezet,
President of the State University of New York at Albany, spoke to the graduates on the subject of "The Education of Hope".

GREEKS

Before The Rising Sun, We Fly

A person is confronted with many paths to follow throughout his life.
When a student finally sheds his high school coating and enters into
a collegiate atmosphere, he stands on the threshold of four years of experience as an undergraduate.
If he chooses the route of a fraternity or sorority, this experience comes in the form of working, laughing and singing together...
of molding friendships
that will last forever.

We Start Out Walking And Learn To Run . . .

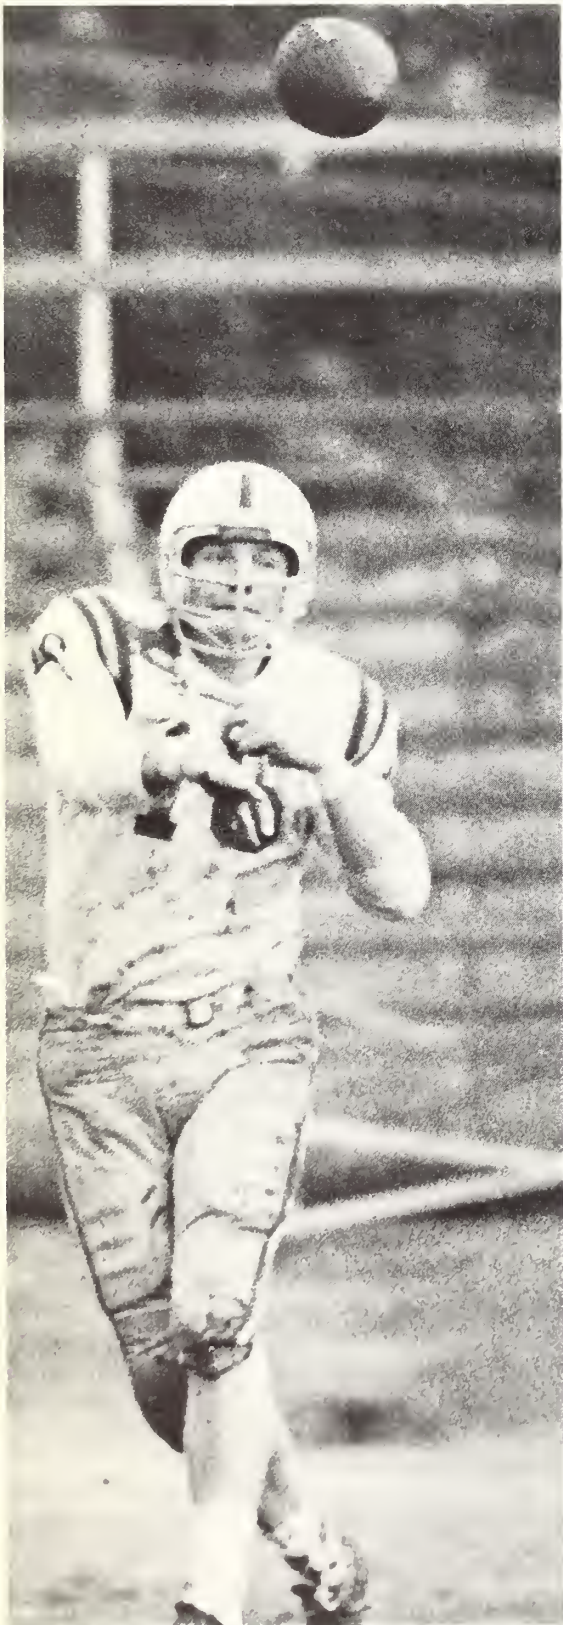

A year of surprises highlighted the 1970-71 varsity athletic competition for the Aces. First, Coach Jim Byers' gridiron squad breezed through an undefeated conference season barely missing a bid to a post-season bowl game. Coach Arad McCutchan's cage Aces were "number one" as they won a fifth national title. In "other" varsity sports, the Aces managed conference championships in swimming and tennis. On the intramural side, the annual Tau Kappa Epsilon-Lambda Chi Alpha All-Sports battle continued with the TKE's winning. Phi Kappa Tau made it an interesting three-way race by winning two sports titles. On the women's side, the independents continued to dominate as Moore Hall edged out the UEI's for the women's title.

Aerial-Minded Aces

Compile 6-3 Season; Win ICC

Led by a versatile offense and a staunch defense, the 1970 pigskin Aces went undefeated in Indiana Collegiate Conference competition and fell one victory short of a berth in the post-season "Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl."

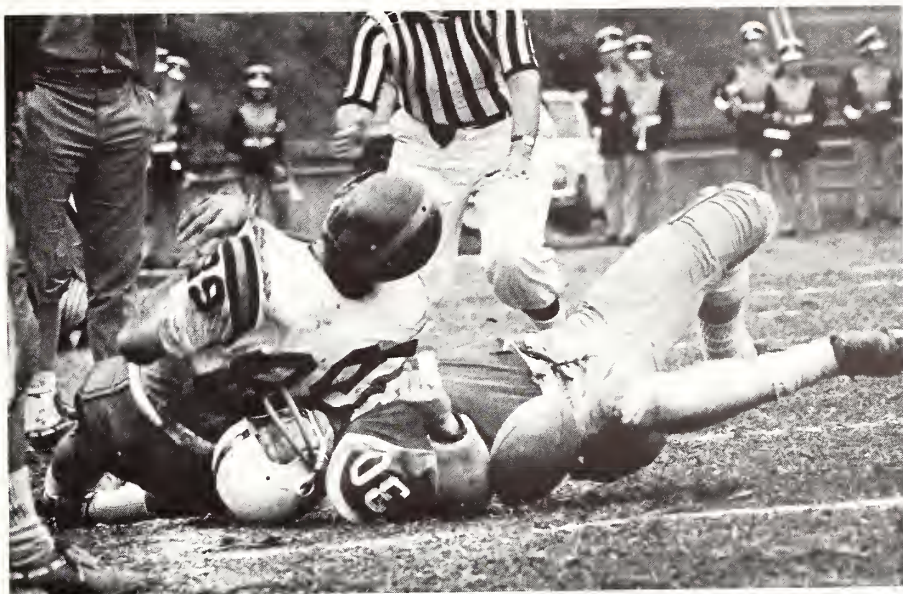

All three Aces losses were inflicted by larger state schools.

Offensively, the Aces were led by little All-America end

Pete Rupp and I C C. most valuable player, quarterback

Craig Blackford. Both are seniors. Blackford was drafted 13th by the National Football League Denver Broncos.

Right: All-American end Pete Rupp was not able to hang on to the ball before being upended.
Lower Right: An unidentified Aces defender prevents a completion against DePauw.

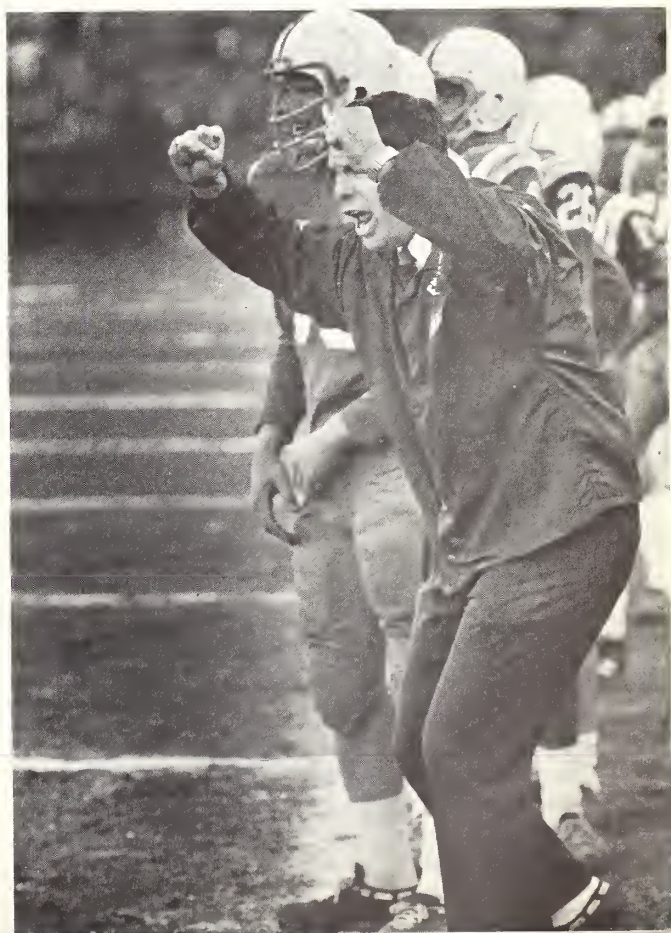

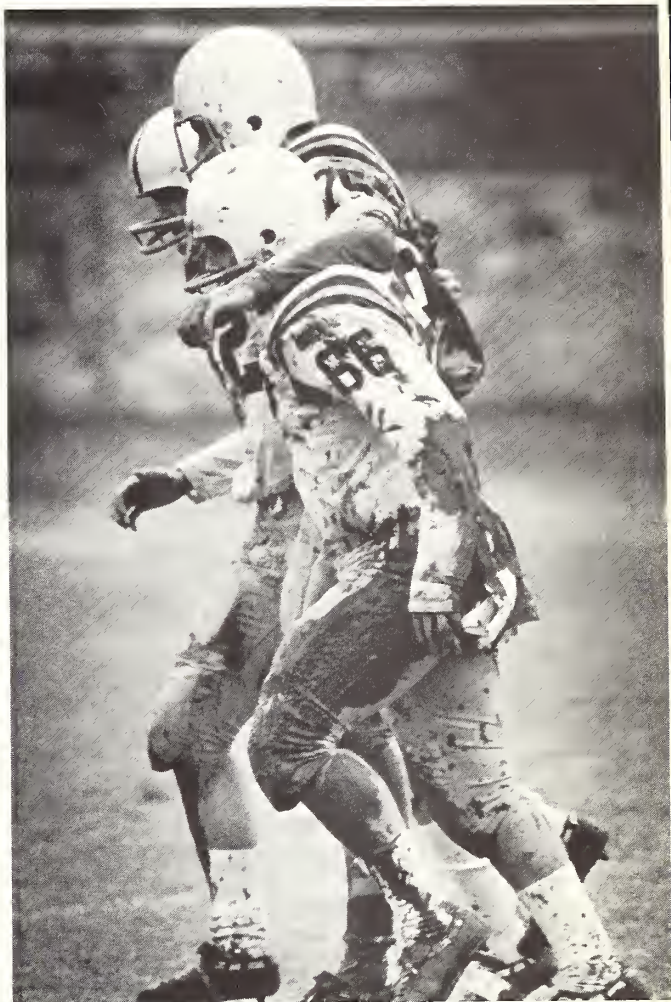

Defensively, linebackers Spike Bell and Gerald Seib, tackle Keith McKinney and guard Steve Ierardi thwarted opponent's offensive drives with key tackles and timely interceptions.

The Aces met the undefeated Pumas of St. Joseph's College in the I C C championship game. The game began with an electrifying 97-yard opening kickoff return by Aces half-back Doug Atherton. The Aces went on to edge the Pumas 23 to 15.

One of the most stinging losses occurred at Ball State, where the upset-minded Aces lost to the Cardinals 21 to 14 before a homecoming crowd of 18,000. Quarterback Craig Blackford amazed the crowd (and the Cardinals!) by completing 39 of 65 aerial bombs and two touchdown passes only to fall one short of a victory.

Freshmen Runners Lead Cross-Country

In the "other" fall sport, Coach Dick Schleicher's cross-country harriers struggled through another season. The team was led by freshmen Geoff Gooch and Chuck Cooksey. The runners placed fourth in the ICC conference meet which was won by Valparaiso. The Aces did manage victories in duel meets against Kentucky Wesleyan and Northwood Institute. The runners do not receive financial aid for participating in cross-country while other conference schools do award scholarships.

Regain Swim Crown

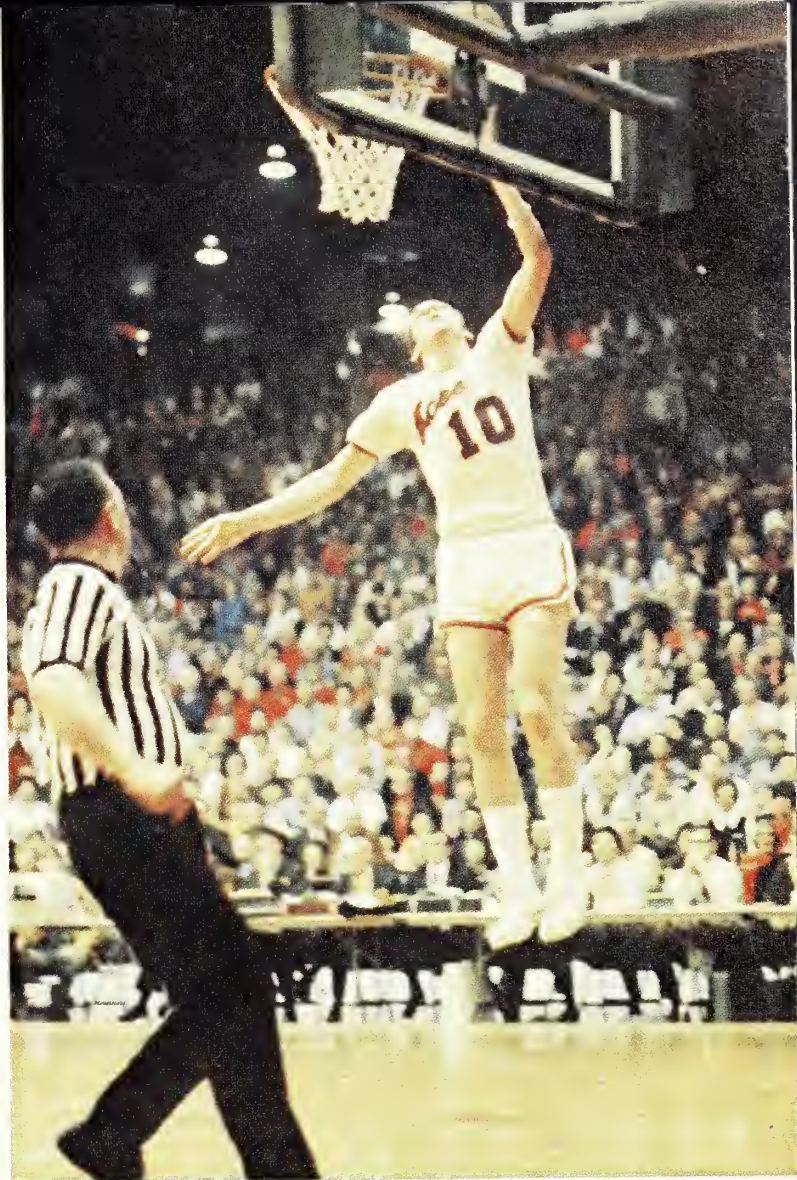

The Aqua Aces regained the ICC swimming title by decisively defeating reigning conference champion Valparaiso and also DePauw. Enroute to regaining the ICC crown, which they had lost by twelve to Valparaiso a year earlier, the Aces tankmen won eight events and set three ICC records in the 200-yard butterfly and 100-yard butterfly while freshman Steve Claus eclipsed the 1,650 yard freestyle record. Coach Dick Schleicher's Aquatic Aces qualified two men for the NCAA College Division Swimming Championships which were held in Springfield, Massachusetts. Senior Bruce Brink qualified in his speciality, the backstroke, while Bruns swam in the butterfly.

And, Yes, We're Number One!

Hampered by injuries and the untimely departures of junior college transfers, the Aces limped through a long December looking for the right floor combination.

On their Eastern tour they managed a split by defeating American International College before losing to nationally-ranked Assumption. After winning only four of their first nine games and finishing second in their own Holiday Tournament (to Weber State), the cagers faced the brunt of the Indiana Collegiate Conference schedule.

Coach McCutchan, searching for the right combination started John Wellemeyer, Bob Clayton, Rick Smith, Don Buse and Rick Coffey against Ball State. In making this change, the Aces were forced to give up height for more balanced scoring. (After the move, the tallest starter was 6'5".) This move led to a victory over Ball State and a seven win, one loss record during the month of January. Key victories during the month were against Butler, DePauw and traditional rival Southern Illinois University. The only loss during the month was at Indiana State.

Following their strong January showing, the Aces were temporarily stalled when they were soundly defeated by an inspired Kentucky Wesleyan five at Owensboro 102-81. Following the loss, the Aces bounced back to defeat ICC foes St. Joseph's, Valparaiso, Butler and DePauw. Following these victories the Aces gained revenge by defeating Indiana State University at the Stadium 90-83. The Aces closed out their regular season by blowing an eleven-point lead with 2:42 left to lose 101-98 at Southern Illinois University. After going undefeated in ICC play and posting a 17-8 season record, the Aces were invited to host the Great Lakes Regional of the NCAA College Division tournament.

In their first round draw, the Aces met the highly rated, defense-oriented Eagles from Ashland College of Ohio. The Aces were rated underdogs to the tough Bill Musselman crew. After carving out an eight-point victory (82-74) over the poised Eagles in "the game of the tournament," the Aces coasted in the regional championship by defeating Central Michigan 78 to 60. Guard Don Buse was selected the most valuable player of the tournament and teammates John Wellemeyer and Rick Coffey were also on the all-tournament team. Evansville hosted seven other teams for the finals of the NCAA College Division tournament. The Aces were slated against the Northeastern Regional Winner, Hartwick College of New York in the first round. The New York crew was completely humiliated and humbled by the vast confines of Roberts Stadium and the polished Aces 105-69.

In the semifinals, the Aces were paired with tournament favorite Southwestern Louisiana State and the nation's leading scorer, Dwight Lamar. Aces defensive magician Don Buse completely inhibited the classy Lamar while the remainder of the Aces held their own against the tall Cajuns 93 to 74. (SWLS starting lineup averaged 6'6".) Senior Bob Clayton played a key role in the Aces victory by controlling the backboards while senior John Wellemeyer added some key scoring.

In quest of McCutchan's fifth NCAA Championship before an overflowing house of over 13,000, the Aces met Old Dominion University of Norfolk, Virginia in the championship. Led by an 18 point first half scoring performance by Coffey and key defensive play by Don Buse and Greg Martin in the second half, the Aces presented coach Arad McCutchan a national championship 97-82.

Don Buse was selected as the tournament's most valuable player. Both Buse and Coffey were selected to the all-tournament team. For McCutchan, the championship climaxed his 25th year as head coach of the Aces. He was later quoted as saying "this was his most satisfying championship because it was less expected than the others."

Matmen Place Second

Coach Nick Voris' matmen gained a runner-up position to the new Indiana Collegiate Conference member, Indiana Central, in the conference's championship held at Carson Center. Although the Aces did not have any individual winners, they did have six runners-up. They included Ken Klein (left) 118 lbs, Earl Wolf (below) 126 lbs, Dave Swindle 134 lbs, Larry Merritt 167 lbs, Dave Weimer 190 lbs and Steve Ierardi heavyweight.

The wrestlers showed marked improvement in their third year of intercollegiate competition. The most obvious physical addition was their own U of E wrestling mat.

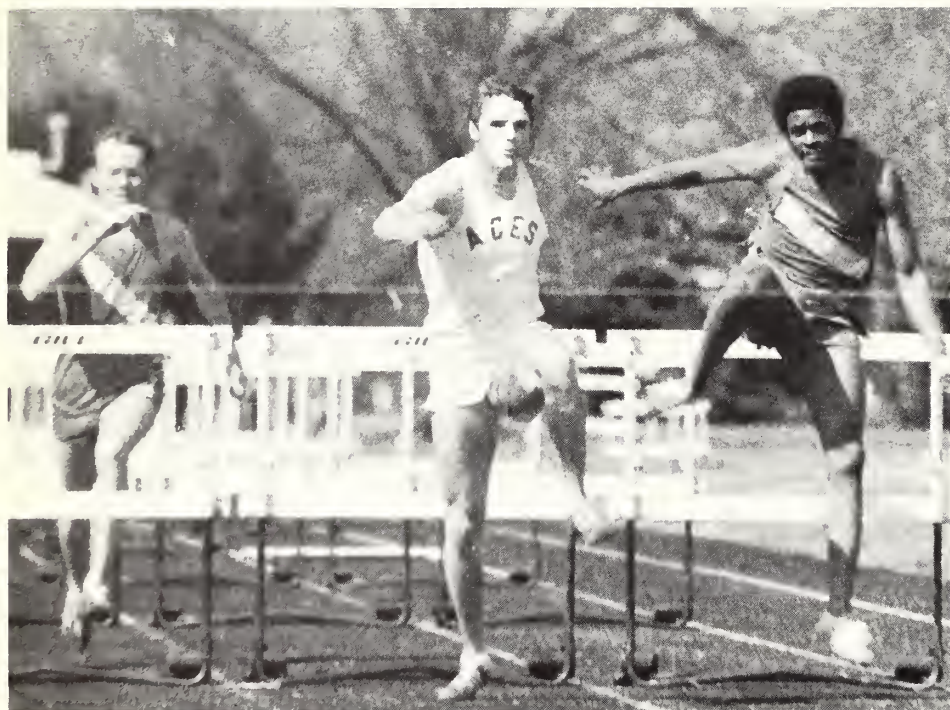

Netters Tie For ICC Crown; Unverzagt Wins Singles Title

Led by ICC number one singles champion Jim Unverzagt, the 1971 edition of the tennis Aces managed a three way tie for the ICC crown with DePauw and Valparaiso. Unverzagt teamed-up with Roger Sergesketter to win the number one doubles competition. Other team members included Bob Dunn, Herb Ziegler, Don Hardin and John Mathis. Unverzagt will be returning next year to defend his title. Also returning on coach James Voorhees' net squad will be Dunn and Mathis.

Coach Richard Schleicher's track men were hampered throughout the season by lack of manpower but still managed some top individual performances. Hurdler Jerry Knight set school records when he won both the intermediate hurdles and the high hurdles in the conference meet. Javelin thrower, Randy Mattingly, set a school record with a toss of 182' at the conference meet.

Although failing to win a golf match this season, the linksmen were a threat in the first round of the ICC Golf Championships, but faltered in the final round. The Aces did manage a fifth-place finish while host Wabash won by 21 strokes over their nearest competitor. Coach Paul "Boomer" Beck's Youthful Aces will have five team members returning. This year's team were Butch McWilliams, Rick Spilker, Tom Walton, John Shrode, Al Paulus, Bill Beckner and John Berry.

The baseball nine got off to a slow start by losing their first six games before splitting a double-header against Wisconsin State.

They went on to win 8 and lose 17.

Highlighting the 1971 season were a double-header sweep against Kentucky Wesleyan and a 5-4 upset win at Western Kentucky.

Leading the Aces in hitting were Steve Welmer (ICC all-star team member), Don Buse and Jim Hostetler. Hostetler was chosen as the team's most valuable player while pitcher Mel Ulrich was elected as the honorary team captain.

Leading the pitching staff in win-loss percentage was freshman Jerry Conrad and Ulrich who had the top earned-run-average.

The baseball nine was coached by Wayne Boultinghouse.

Paul Beck Retires As Professor Emeritus

After 24 years of service to the university, Paul Beck, retired as Professor Emeritus of Physical Education. Coach Beck came to the University in the fall of 1947, after five years in the United States Navy, from which he was discharged as a Commander. As his first assignment at the university, he was Assistant Head Football Coach, under Donald Ping. He remained in this position, until 1954, when he was made head football coach. Beck coached the Aces for twelve years as head coach until 1966, when Jim Byers, the present head coach, took the position. Mr. Beck has also helped with the coaching of basketball and golf.

During the 24 years, he was also a physical education professor. In 1959, Beck was raised to associate professor, and held that title until he retired this spring.

Sharing Horizons That Are New To Us

A teacher often wears many hats besides that of merely instructor of an academic subject.
Many find themselves
moonlighting,
performing dual functions within the university framework.
Teachers who could be counted on in times of trouble,
fear or loneliness;
teachers who radiated
a true concern
for a student's progress in a class;
teachers who would attempt to step down from the "pedestal" and talk "with" students rather than "at" them.

SENIORS

Talking It Over . . .

For some of us,
it was our last time
to see the excitement of rush, to build homecoming displays, watch the Aces in action,
and to take the dreaded finals.

So, we talked, laughed,
sang and acted together,
with that special person,
with the faculty
or with fellow seniors.

We found out
what the title of senior stands for. . .

first in the line
for duty or work,
and last in the chances for more college activities.

ORGANIZATIONS

Working Together Day To Day . . .

A university
is like a complex machine.
Before a machine can perform its work, all of its component parts must likewise
be in smooth, working condition.
Each individual part is vital to the machine's function; the loss of one part . . .
no matter how small or insignificant it may seem . . .
often upsets the machine's balance.
Campus organizations are likewise
vital to a university's bloodstream.
A color wheel of activities helps provide students with a strong social diet.
They learn
the meaning of the word unity; they learn to work together.

. . . Together

Cynthia Croce - NCAS

For those students planning to enter the field of advertising, retail sales, marketing and business management the business department offered the services of the fraternity of Pi Sigma Epsilon. The marketing, management, and sales fraternity.

Ken Sobbe - Pi Sigma Epsilon

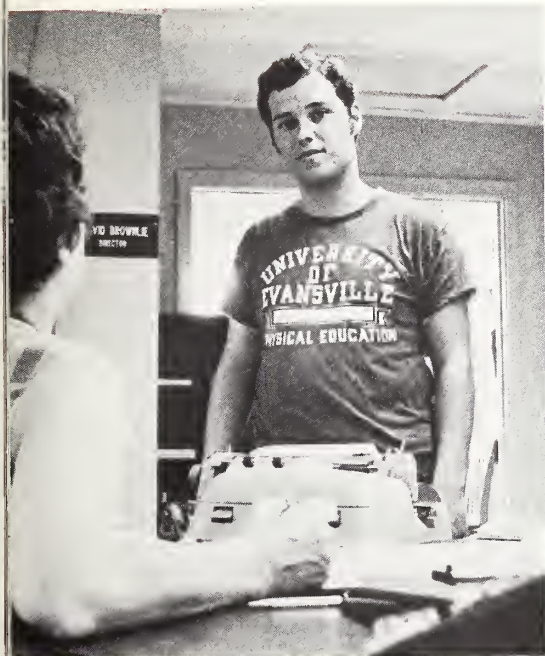

Frank Kanowski - Administrative Management Society

It was a busy year for the Administrative Management Society as they planned educational and social events for the majors and minors in the fields of engineering, economics and business administration. Capping the year's activities was their banquet at the Topps Restaurant in Evansville.

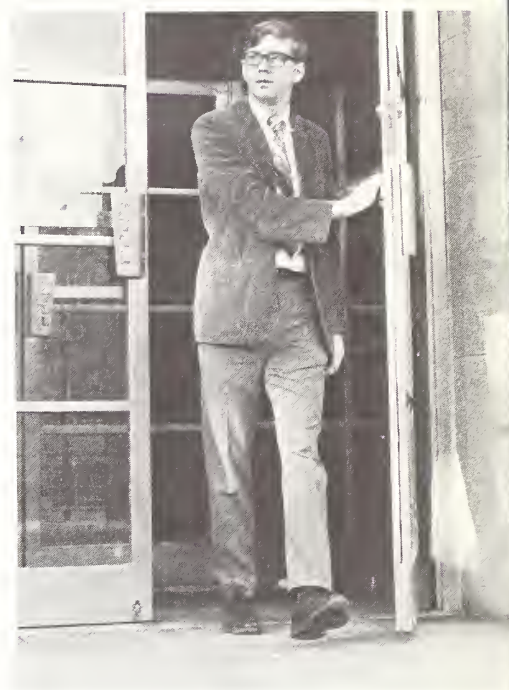

NCAS, the National Collegiate Association for Secretaries, organized for the purpose of furthering the interests of students in the fields of secretarial science and business education. While NCAS offered those in the business field with interesting activities, the SEA, or Student Education Association, planned activities for those in the education field. Faculty teas, talks, conferences and tours highlighted the year for the future teachers.

Walter Neal - Student Education Association

Jen Bastin - A.C.E.

Mike Coon - Economics Club

The Economics Club
at the U of E sought to provide significant stimulation
to the interest
of those concerned with personal investigation of the economic world.

Members
of the Association for Childhood Education (ACE),

They're called the Aquacades, their habitat
 is water
 and swimming
 is their game.
 The group,
 formerly known
 as the Aqua Angels, annually
 put on a water show
 in the Carson Center pool.
 The wet ballet involves skits
 and synchronized swimming.

Randa Sanders - WHPER

Debbie Hirschman - Aquacades

Jean Hergenrother and Margie Hinder - Kappa Pi

With emphasis on creativity, talent and scholarship,
 the University boasts of its Beta Xi chapter of Kappa Pi.
 Kappa Pi is an international art honorary promoting greater interests in the art world,
 on international,
 national
 and local levels.
 This year
 the chapter sponsored a faculty raffle
 of original art pieces
 from each member of the art faculty.

The women's lib movement has invaded the PE department in the form of the Women's Health, Physical Education
and Recreation Association, (WHPER).
The group
is made up
of women
who seem to feel that men
aren't the only ones
who can excel
in the field
of athletics.

Marcia Raeber - French Club

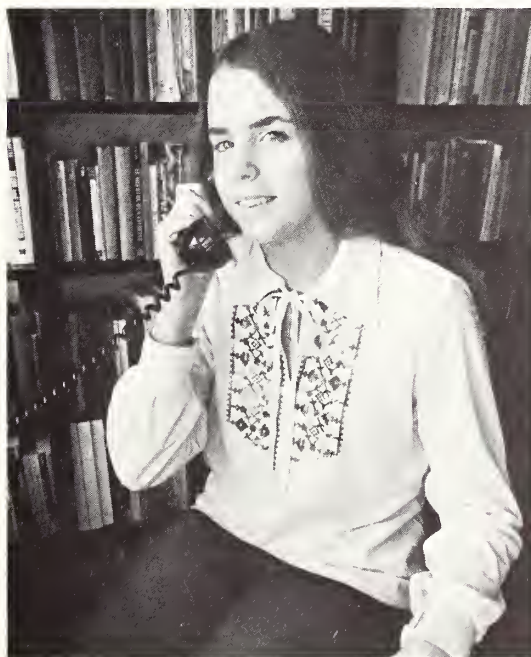

Becky Bartholomew - Spanish Club

Vicki Katterhenry - Cheerleader Captain

A football game
without cheerleaders
is like a fraternity
without beer,
a nun
without a religion,
and a song,
without music.
The function
of cheerleaders
has simply been said
"to cheer."
But
the quintet does more;
they care,
are always there.

It might be French,
but
the homework
looks like Greek
to the student.
But,
there's always
the fringe benefits,
the parties
Le Circle Francais hold, while the lands of bullfights are discussed by students
in the Spanish Club.
Both clubs
seek to familiarize
their members
with the customs,
people
and languages
of respective countries.

Freshmen women who have registered for a full student load and have attained a 3.5 grade point average during their freshman year are eligible for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, freshmen womens' honorary. The goal of Alpha Tau Delta, the nursing honorary, is to form a strong bond of friendship among women in the nursing profession.

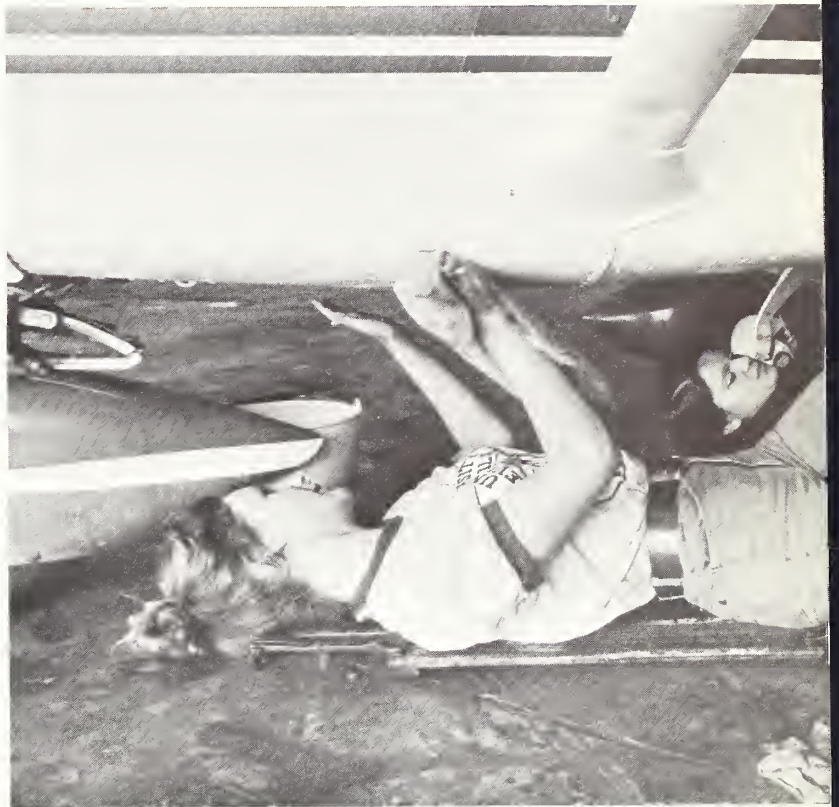

Jan Patterson - Alpha Tau Delta

Flora Young - Alpha Lambda Delta

Mike Young - Arnold Air Commander

Mike Madrid - Arnold Air Commander

Pam Gardner - Angel Flight Commander

The Arnold Air Society
is a national professional honorary
service organization
to promote
leadership development
within the Air Force ROTC.
The Angel Flight
is a national
coed auxiliary
of the Arnold Air Society
to promote
the society
and to provide service
to the University
and community.

Interfraternity Council
coordinates
fraternity activities
on campus.
The group
helps organize rush
for men interested
each spring and fall
in pledging
any of the six fraternities.
The group
usually sponsors
a dance
in conjunction with
rush activities.
The council operates
with its own officers.
Each
of the six fraternities also elects delegates to serve
as representatives
on the council.

Joh Treat - Panhellenic Council

With representatives from each of the sororities, Panhellenic Council strives to co-ordinate all the activities of Greek women.
Encouraging good scholarship and high standards of conduct, they concern themselves with rush, pledging and initiation.
This year the organized women decided to form a Junior Panhellenic Council.
This council is composed of representatives from each of the sororities' pledge classes.
They concern themselves with the projects of these respective pledge classes.

Betsy Burwash - Junior Panhellenic Council

Mike Berg - Junior Class

Madelyn Creedon - Sophomore Class

Mark Miller - Freshman Class

Chuck Stonehill - Interfraternity Council

Bob Clayton - Senior Class

Students gain representation in Student Government Association's Student Senate when they elect class officers in the spring. As student senators, the class officers vote on legislation and review campus policies and proposals such as a projected teacher-course evaluation. Class presidents for 1970-71 were: junior, Mike Berg, sophomore, Madelyn Creedon, freshman, Mark Miller, and, senior, Bob Clayton.

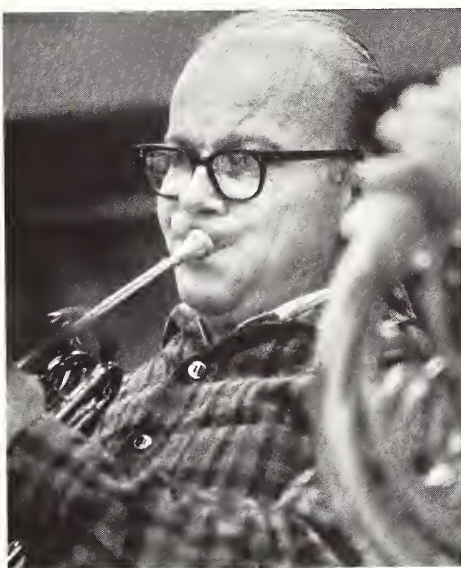

Mike Douglas - Phi Mu Alpha

Music lives forever
and so do the friendships gained in the sisterhood and the brotherhood of Sigma Alpha Iota
and Phi Mu Alpha.
These two honoraries
were for those music students who wished to advance
the cause of music.

Doris McFadin - Sigma Alpha Iota

Rounding out the music program at the University were the choruses of the music department. Three of the groups were formed by audition while the other two were open to all interested students. Auditions were taken for Chamber Chorus, offered through the evening college; the Choral Ayres, a group which performed pop to Bach; and the University Choir which was the figurehead of the choruses. The Chapel and Campus Choirs required only that the student was willing to sing.

The American Chemical Society is a professional organization for chemists
and chemical engineers,
on the college level.

The group
offers monthly programs including speakers
and plant tours
of interest to students.

Kappa Mu Epsilon
mathematics honorary,
can sum up its purpose
in one statement:

"Unfold
the glory of mathematics."

The mathematics group
sponsored its own week
of activities,
climaxed by a banquet
at the Homestead.

Both faculty and students
comprise the membership roster of Phi Beta Chi
natural sciences honorary.

The purpose of the honorary is to honor
those students who have attained
a high scholastic average in the natural sciences.

Wayne Roell - Kappa Mu Epsilon - Phi Beta Chi

Larry Hancock - American Chemical Society

Anita Fisher - Psi Chi

Craig Marshall - Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu is an honorary organization for social studies majors and minors. This society gave recognition to those who had done outstanding work in social studies. Another organization which stressed the importance of achievement was Psi Chi. This organization promoted the advancement of psychology and helped to encourage and to stimulate scholarship in all other fields.

A fashion show in Harper Dining Center featured casual, formal and beach wear designed by a young, black Evansville high school student. The show was part of a city-wide "Black Culture Week."

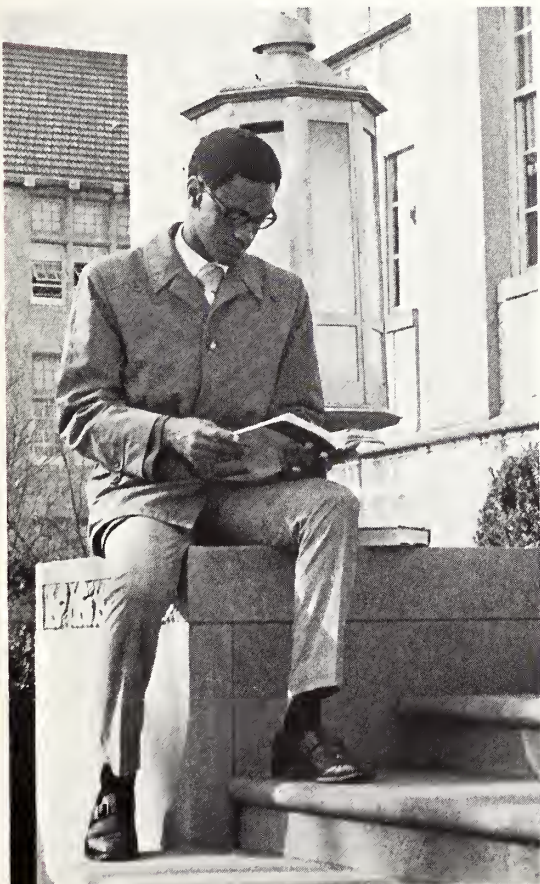

Young blacks from the University campus and the Evansville community modeled the original designs while pop music was provided by a live combo.

The fashion show was one of the few formal programs held in the dining center all year.

It provided students a peek at part of a culture they might not have been familiar with.

This is the type of activity that the Sociology Club was stressing this year.

Trent Tucker - Sociology Club

Dave Emge - Alpha Psi Omega

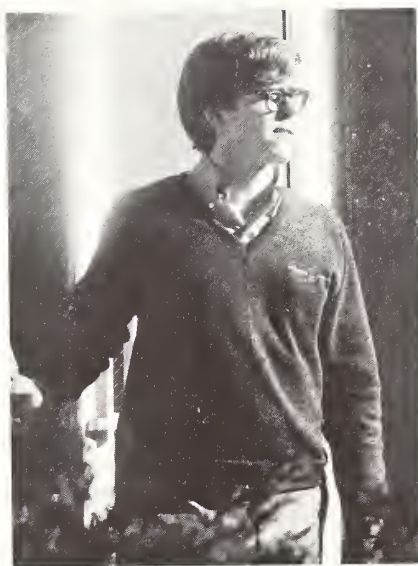

Students with talent for drama and playreading blossomed forth in various readings by the Reader's Theatre and membership in Alpha Psi Omega, national drama honorary fraternity. Among Reader's Theatre contributions was the spring reading of Dylan Thomas' "Under Milk Wood". Hours of rehearsals, memorization of lines, set designing, and costuming, culminated in induction into Alpha Psi Omega for some.

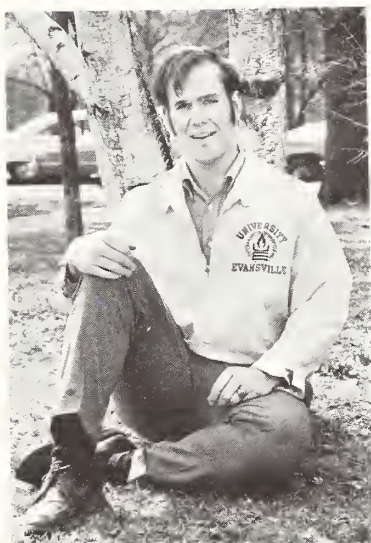

Linda Evinger - Newman Center

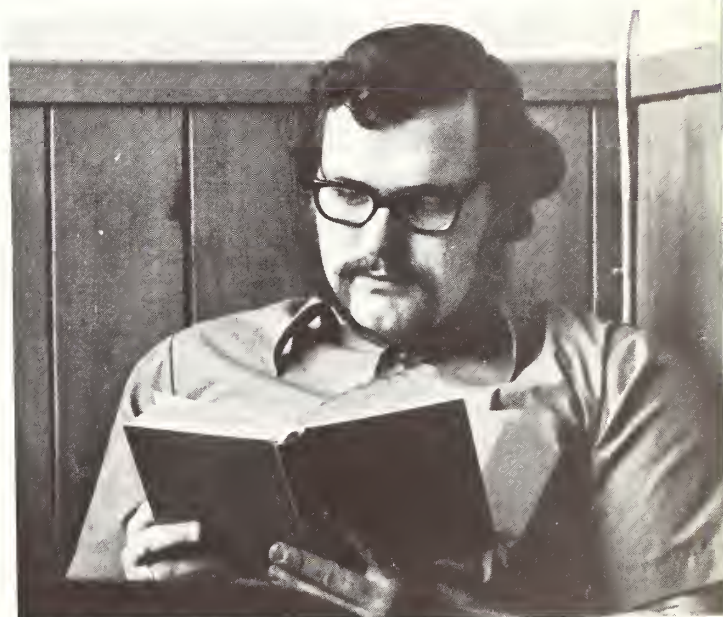

Dave Perkins - University Christian Movement

Varied activities were sponsored by the University Christian Movement. Students were given the opportunity to test their beliefs in action, and through this inter-action a strong fellowship of men and women resulted. Newman Center also continued to be the haven for those wanting to attend Mass, meet for confession or counseling with the resident priest.

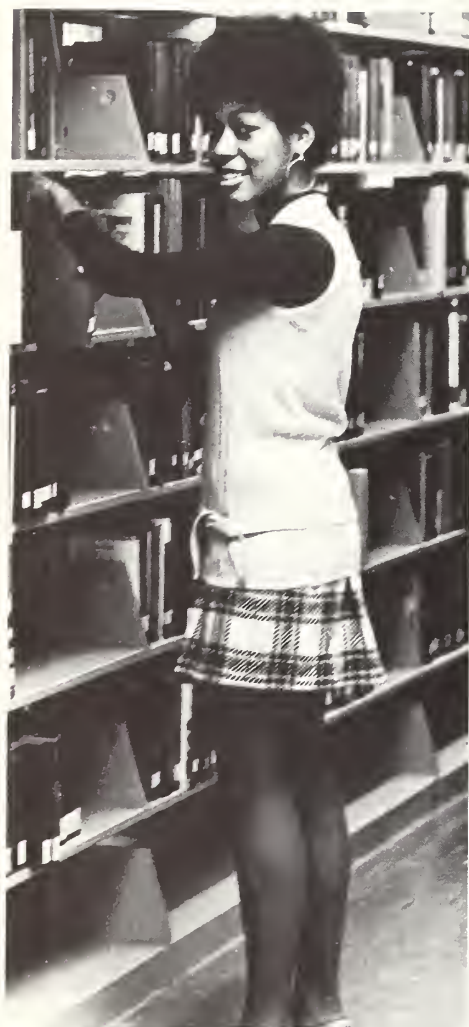

Bob Koch - Kappa Chi

Ray Young - Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship

Preparation for life and instilling Christianity into their goals continued to be the objectives of members of Kappa Chi. The honorary fraternity sponsored a panel discussion on whether or not there is life after death. Representatives from the University campus and the Evansville community expressed their beliefs. Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship also provided students a chance to read and discuss the Bible.

Pat English - Nifty Nine

The Nifty Nine, black women's social sorority, concerned with the community and the social life on campus, this year gave the U of E a sense of importance.

In order to aid the communication of events on campus, Residence Hall Council has been established as a needed medium used by several other service organizations.

The purpose of the Associated Women Students is to provide the women on the campus with lifelong helpful programs.

Black Student Union got it all together this year in an effort to provide more stimulating events-social as well as cultural.

Janice Himmelhaver - Residence Hall Council

Debbie Pfisterer - Associated Women Students

James Wilson - Black Student Union

After several meetings of the Union Programming Board and Student Government Association, a bond was agreed upon for the 1971-72 school year.

Beginning next year the two most active groups on campus will merge into what will be known as the Student Association.

However, the Union Board will continue to function as the only social programming board on campus. The president of Union Board will become the S.A. vice-president of student activities.

Along with four other vice-presidents he will serve under the president of the Student Association. The merger also included several of the smaller service organizations.

is the yearly publication
of the University.
Its title
stands for,
"Life in College."
This is exactly what each staff
tries to accomplish
each year,
to cover
every aspect of the college experience of each respective year.

Joe Ellert - Managing Editor, Spring

Greg Thomas - The Catalyst Editor - Pi Delta Epsilon

As a weekly publication, the University Crescent covered important campus happenings and gave both the staff and the students a voice on any issue. This year, the journalism staff began a new publication, The Catalyst. It was a quarterly publication, literary and informative. Adding to the media of the University was WEVC, the FM radio station. The student-staffed station gave the community music and social comment.

And When The Evening Comes

Resident students found the dorms quite a bit different from home. They weren't used to the early fire drills, their own clean-up jobs and bothersome roommates. But, by the end of the year, they got used to the early morning get togethers, the cluttered rooms, and roommates became inseparable. They couldn't get this type of living at home, and they found it a unique experience.

Harper's Hosted

If students experienced anything at all during the school year, it was standing in line. They learned to stand in line to register for classes, to buy books . . . and to eat. Hungry resident students lined up each day, impatiently waiting for the "gates to go up" at Harper Residence Dining Center. And after standing in line once, they'd stand in line again for second helpings. . . and possibly thirds. Harper's was also the setting for several special events during the year—a black fashion show part of a city-wide "Black Culture Week",
"French night",
featuring French entrées decorations and candle-lit tables; and Chinese food and decorations in conjunction with the Union Board's "China Week".

So Much Of Life Ahead

We'll Find A Place Where There's Room To Grow

U of E: England Campus

Beginning in the fall of the 1971-72 school year the University of Evansville will hold classes at the new campus in Grantham, England.

The campus will be at Harlaxton Manor nestled in Nottingham Forest.

The course offerings will be strictly for liberal arts and fine arts majors.

Heading the foreign campus will be

Professor Jeremy Rusk,
with two assistants,

Professors Michael Carson and Bruce Bauman.

The students will be involved in study for six months
and will tour the country for three months.

... And, Yes, We've Just Begun.

And Yes We Lived 1971

This was the year, 1971.
It had begun with excitement for the frosh, and as "a last time for everything" for the seniors.
You, the students, made it all happen.
You gave it the brilliance and dullness of a year of good and also bad.
It was rounded with a theme of searching for each and every student.
We, the 1971 staff,
hope you found your search successful and that we successfully followed your moves, in these 240 pages.
